REPORT ON CROP AND WEATHER CONDITIONS

Horticultural Branch Provincial Department of Agriculture

Vernon, B.C., Sept. 3, 1921.

Vancouver Island and Gulf Islands

Victoria district experienced a heavy rain on the 20th and 22nd August. A nice shower also fell early on the morning of the 31st August.

Loganberries are practically all cleaned up, Himalaya Giant and Evergreen blackberries are just starting in.

Yellow Transparent and Red Astrachan apples have been harvested. Duchess will be in full swing this week.

Gravenstein, Alexander and Kings are sizing nicely after the rains. Late apples are also coming along in good shape.

Lower Mainland

The fine weather spell appears to be breaking and the weather has been bad all through the Valley this week. Very heavy rain fell last week, particularly on the immediate coast, where it took the form of thunder showers, and lodged a great deal of the standing grain. Harvesting everywhere is going forward as steadily as the short fine spells will permit, but there is still the greater part of the grain out.

Loganberries are about over and most growers have ceased picking their blackberries. The early plums are now in, though the wet weather is hampering picking, and the Brown Rot is taking the bulk of the crop in almost all varieties. Yellow Transparent apples are nearly ready and the crop will be large.

Some of the growers are cutting out the finished cane from their raspberry plantations, but the majority are not, and in view of the prevalence of cane troubles this year it would be well not to neglect this.

Weeds are getting ahead of everyone, just now, but they are not indicative of neglect so much as of pressure of work at this busy time.

Kelowna

The weather is keeping ideal and unless we get too much rain everything will come up to expectations.

Transcendent Crabs are finished. Hyslops rolling freely this week and next. Wealthies are exceptionally good sized and clean and are moving freely. McIntosh are a good colour and a fair size and will commence next week.

Bartlett and Clapps Favourite pears are now finished. Flemish Beauty and Conice are now moving in quantity.

Early varieties of plums are about over. Ponds Seedling will be ready in a few days. Italian prunes will move heavy this week and next.

Penticton and Keremeos

In the Penticton district large amounts of Wealthy apples are moving this week. McIntosh are colouring very well. Bartlett and Flemish Beauty pears are still being picked in fair quantities. Italian Prunes, Grand Duke and Ponds Seedling plums are being shipped to a considerable extent. Elberta peaches are commencing.

We have been favoured with two or three very beneficial showers this week.

In the Keremeos district Wealthy apples are moving in abundance. Flemish Beauty and Bartlett pears are being harvested quite generally in the district.

Sumnerland

The weather during the past week has been ideal for the harvesting of the various crops.

St. John peaches are over. Early Crawford and Belle of Georgia are moving now. Elberta will be ready in about 10 days.

Bradshaw and Egg plums are at their peak.

Summer apples are over. Gravensteins, Wealthy and Jeffries are going out in carloads. McIntosh will move in volume in about a week, as picking will be started on September 8th.

All classes of vegetables are moving in bulk.

Apples are sizing and colouring up fine. Where thinning was practised in a thorough manner the size and colour is excellent. Some growers only thinned in a haphazard way with corresponding results; others again did little or no thinning, result, much undersized fruit, causing disappointment to both grower and shipper.

The same remarks apply to peaches. Peaches this season were very free

GOLF MATCHES PLAYED ON LABOUR DAY

Kelowna Wins at Home and at Kamloops

On Monday last, Labour Day, the Kelowna golfers took advantage of the holiday and played an inter-club match with Kamloops over the new Kamloops links, which are very prettily situated on the high ground above the town overlooking the Thompson River. The weather was ideal, the Kelowna men found the course to be a very sporting one, and nothing could have exceeded the hospitality of the Kamloops Golf Club, and it is to be hoped that many such matches may be arranged.

The singles were played in the morning and the four-somes in the afternoon after lunch, which was served in the Club House. The matches resulted as follows:

Singles: 18 holes. H. S. Moreton, Kamloops, beat G. E. Seon, Kelowna, 3 and 1. H. A. Phillips, Kamloops, and C. R. Reid, Kelowna, all square. G. W. Black, Kamloops, beat F. A. Taylor, 3 and 1. G. L. Campbell, Kelowna, beat W. O. Morris, Kamloops, 6 and 5. H. G. M. Wilson, Kelowna, beat Lt.-Col. G. S. Pragnell, Kamloops, 4 and 2. G. Stirling, Kelowna, beat H. V. Craig, Kamloops, 1 up.

Toursomes: 18 holes. Seon and Reid beat Moreton and Phillips, 1 up. Taylor and Campbell beat Black and Morris, 2 and 1. Pragnell and Craig beat Wilson and Stirling, 1 up.

Kelowna thus won the singles by three matches to two and the four-somes by two matches to one.

On the same day the Kelowna Club invited some of the Vernon players to play a friendly game on the Kelowna course. After a very pleasant afternoon, Kelowna proved the winners by 6 matches to 4.

CHURCH NOTICES

Rev. Principal Vance, of the Anglican Theological College, Vancouver, will preach at the morning and evening services in St. Michael's and All Angels' Church on Sunday.

Baptist Church services. Public worship, 1 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.; Bible School, 9.45 a.m. Evening topic: "The Peril of Uselessness." Good singing. Every one welcome. Mr. Williams will sing at the evening service.

Commissioner and Mrs. Eadie, of Winnipeg, the Salvation Army Leaders of the West, accompanied by Brigadier Sims, Ensign T. Mundy, also Brigadier Coombs, of Vancouver, will visit Kelowna on September 23rd. This will be the welcome visit of Commissioner and Mrs. Eadie. The Commissioner comes to us with a world-wide experience of Salvation Army operations in the different territories in which he has commanded. We are not quite sure what building the Commissioner will speak in. Watch further announcements.

MARRIAGE

Wedgell-Bliss

An event of much interest to many Kelowna people took place at All Saints' Church, Ottawa, on Wednesday, August 31st, when a resident of Kelowna from such early years that he may be considered almost as a native son, Mr. Edwin Clyde Wedgell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wedgell, was united in matrimony to Miss Katherine Frances Huntington Bliss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alder Bliss, of Ottawa, the Rev. Mr. Hepburn officiating. The bride was attended by two bridesmaids and a flower girl, and the groom was supported by Mr. Leonard DuMoulin as best man. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the ceremony was witnessed by a large gathering, including Mr. and Mrs. P. DuMoulin, of Kingston, formerly of Kelowna.

As Mr. Alder Bliss is Scout Commissioner for Ottawa and the bridegroom for years has been Scoutmaster of the Kelowna Troop, the Scouts of Ottawa turned out in force to furnish a guard of honour, lining the approach from the curb to the vestibule of the church, and they gave the wedded pair a real Scout send-off. After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the happy couple left for Montreal and will spend a month in touring Quebec and Ontario, visiting the Thousand Islands, Niagara Falls and other points. They will arrive some time in October in Kelowna where their winsome bride has already made a large number of friends during her residence here last year.

As a friend of many years standing, the editor of The Courier may be permitted to join in the flood of congratulations and to wish Scoutmaster Wedgell and his bride long years of much happiness.

KELOWNA FALL FAIR WIDELY ADVERTISED

Messrs. Elliott and Chapin Return from Lengthy Automobile Trip in Interests of Exhibition

Mr. S. T. Elliott, President of the Agricultural and Trades Association, and Mr. H. F. Chapin returned on Saturday from their lengthy motor trip undertaken to advertise the Fall Fair and Stampede. Their labours covered a wide range of country both north and south, and they are hopeful of good results accruing from the publicity they gave to the big event which is to be brought off in October. An interesting record of the trip was kept by Mr. Chapin, and we publish his "log" herewith.

Leaving Kelowna on Tuesday, August 23rd, on the 3.30 ferry, we landed at Westbank and proceeded at once to put up our posters. We posted Westbank and Peachland and then started for Summerland, being obliged, on account of a recent slide, to take the upper road, which proved to be very good—much to our surprise. We had our supper at Summerland and, after decorating the town, went on to Penticton the same evening. We took in the pictures and then turned in.

Wednesday morning we posted the city, everywhere meeting with hearty cooperation from the citizens. We left Penticton at noon and arrived at Okanagan Falls for lunch. Proceeding south, we called at Fairview, Oliver and Osoyoos and arrived at Oroville at 6 p.m. At Oliver we met Archie Graves, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Kelowna, who was relieving the manager there. At Oroville we met our old friend Frank Fraser, who is in charge of the cannery at that place.

We left Oroville at 8 p.m. and drove straight through to Okanagan, Wash., 45 miles south of the boundary line where we stayed the night. On Thursday morning we posted the town and started on our return to Penticton, on the way billing Omak, Riverside, Tonasket and Oroville. We found every one in U.S. territory in sympathy with us and our mission. The roads from Osoyoos to Okanagan were fine, with numerous signs all the way to guide the tourist.

We got back to Penticton at 6 p.m. and after having something to eat we started for Keremeos over a mountainous road, with a very good surface but crooked and hilly, and reached our destination at 10 p.m. Next morning, Friday, we put up bills in the town and then proceeded to Hedley and on to Princeton, where we had lunch. From Princeton we drove to Granite Creek and Coalmont. On our journey we met another Kelowna man in the person of Capt. Cates. Arriving at Merritt at 10.30 p.m., we had late supper and turned in at the Adelphi Hotel, which was first-class in every respect.

Leaving Merritt on Saturday morning, we proceeded to Spence's Bridge, billing small towns along the road. We had lunch at the Bridge and started for Ashcroft, where we arrived at about 4 p.m., posted the town, had supper and retired early. The electric plant having been burned some weeks ago, the town was without light. About half the population and half the business men are Chinese. The three hotels are all owned and operated by Chinamen. I must admit that our hotel was clean and the "cats" good, but the idea of the thing certainly affected us.

We got up early on Sunday morning and were on the Cariboo road by 7 a.m. It is a beautiful road all the way to the 100-Mile House, but from there on we had to slacken our speed. We posted all hotels and ranches along this road right up to 150-Mile House, at which place there is quite a village. From 150-Mile House we went on to Williams Lake, which is off the Cariboo Road some twelve miles. Until lately it was the terminus of the P.G.E. Ry., but the line has now been pushed on some 35 miles further. Williams Lake is quite a thriving town, and railroad men, carpenters and visitors make it lively. We had supper and were in bed at 8 o'clock on Sunday night.

On Monday morning we were again up early and getting away by 8.30 a.m. on the Chilcotin road to Four Mile Creek. From the latter point we took a run on the Alkali Lake road, climbing steadily for over an hour. When we reached the summit

RUTLAND

Mr. A. Govan arrived last week from Calgary to join his wife and family, who have been staying for some time past with Mr. and Mrs. B. Vigus.

Mr. J. Dudgeon left for Calgary on Saturday, after spending a fortnight's vacation with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sired and daughter, of Penticton, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. Petch.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Congdon, of Florence, Ontario, left on Monday morning for their home, after spending a week visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. McDonald.

Mrs. J. Dudgeon and daughter left last week for Vancouver.

Mrs. N. Laidlaw and family have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. McDonald. They left on Tuesday morning for London, Ontario.

Mrs. M. Longstaff, with Stanley and Helen, moved to Kelowna on Monday last, where they expect to reside until the end of the year. Meanwhile the ranch will be under the capable direction of Mr. Alfred Longstaff.

Mr. A. Mann, of the firm of McDonald & Mann, was in the district last week-end to put the final touches to the hot-water heating system in the School, one or two radiators not having been erected before, owing to being damaged in transit and new ones having to be sent for.

There seems a tendency on the part of those who have charge of the hiring of men on the B.M.I.D. system, to favour the employment of Italians and other aliens in preference to British subjects, especially if they happen to reside in Rutland. We have heard it repeatedly stated that a camp of Italians working on the new extension to the system, above Rutland, receive the same pay for a nine-hour day (and do less work), as is paid the men in a neighbouring camp for a ten-hour day; that camp containing mostly English speaking men, many of them returned soldiers. To make things worse, an Italian has now been appointed foreman of the latter camp. If these are true facts, then a change should be made. Several times this season we have known local boys and good workers too, to be refused work while outsiders, mainly aliens, were leisurely earning four or more bucks a day, only showing occasional bursts of speed at the approach of the engineer or head foreman. Furthermore, why are no local men employed at the dam?

Miss Mildred Ford left on Monday for Ewing's Landing, where she will take a position as school teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Moorhouse, of Calgary, are visiting Mrs. J. Turner.

Mrs. A. Bouvette and baby are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ford.

SINN FEIN LEADERS ARE IN GOOD SPIRITS

DUBLIN, Sept. 8.—Signs of confidence and good spirits were again apparent among the Sinn Fein leaders at the Mansion House here this morning. They have received knowledge of the contents of Premier Lloyd George's reply to Eamonn De Valera, which will be made public here this evening at the same time that the note is given out by the British authorities. So far as could be judged, the Irish leaders were not disturbed or surprised by Lloyd George's communication.

GLENMORE

Mr. W. K. White, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. James, returned to the Coast on Thursday.

Mr. R. E. J. Hunt returned from Naramata with Roy on Tuesday, having spent the week-end there.

Mr. R. W. Sheridan, of Cawston, B.C., was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Connor.

Bang! The feathered world awoke on Saturday to find their peaceful domain invaded by humans intent on securing "bags." The eve of September 3rd saw several ardent sportsmen making their way northwards to secure locations in spite of the stormy evening. The driver who raced northward about 3 a.m. (no 15 mile speed limit) evidently believed that "the early bird catches the worm."

The regular monthly meeting of the Glenmore Local, U.F.B.C., will be held on Monday evening next, Sept. 12th, at 8 p.m. A good attendance is looked for.

School opened on Tuesday after the summer vacation. Miss Lois Rumble resumed her duties for the third year.

Who were the sportsmen that, on Sunday morning, mistook homers for ducks, on a ranch? Perhaps they realized their mistake after firing two shots, as they hastily motored off.

ONLY TEN LOTS SOLD AT CITY TAX SALE

Efforts Made to Effect Economy at Power House—No Agreement Yet Reached With West Kootenay Power Co.

All the members of the Council were present at the regular fortnightly meeting on Tuesday night.

The tender of Mr. J. Wardlaw for the house to be built by Mr. R. Whill under the Better Housing Act was accepted, the difference between the figure of $4,232.75 and the loan amount of $3,500 to be paid by Mr. Whill.

Mr. Wardlaw's tender for the house to be erected by Mr. A. Edwards was referred to the special Better Housing Committee with full power to act in regard to modifications in the plans and specifications. Mr. Edwards having expressed a desire that the contract be awarded to Mr. Wardlaw subject to certain alterations in the building which will reduce the cost.

Mr. T. Cutler wrote enquiring as to whom to apply for submission of tenders for supply to the Power House and schools of 2,000 cords of wood available on his property six miles north of town. The City Clerk was instructed to give the required information.

Letters were received from Mrs. Carrae Seddon, pointing out that Royal Avenue was impassable for the hauling of wood to her residence and asking that this condition be remedied, and from W. Haug & Son and Mr. H. Slater, manager of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange, urging the need of immediate work on Haynes Avenue, to put it in shape for heavy traffic.

It was decided to do as much work on these streets, as the condition of the municipal treasury will permit so late in the fiscal year, when all appropriations for public works have been pretty well exhausted.

Mr. M. G. Gorrie wrote withdrawing his offer of the corner of Lot 14, Block 5, Plan 186, for street purposes. Mr. M. G. Gorrie, of the Kelowna Steam Laundry, advised the Council that the old Curling Rink property, offered to him by the City was of too large area for his purpose, and he did not wish to have it reserved from sale for him.

Mr. G. W. Weeden asked permission to remove a house from Lot 24, Plan 1,000, Wolsley Avenue, to Lot 5, Sub-Division of Block 14, Sutherland Avenue. Referred to the Road Foreman and the City Superintendent for report as to the feasibility of moving the house without undue interference with light and telephone wires. On behalf of a client, Mr. F. R. E. DeHart forwarded an application, accompanied by a deposit of $25, for the purchase of Lots 17 and 8, Block 19, Map 1306, at a cost of $100. The application was accepted and instructions were given for preparation of the necessary By-law as soon as the balance of the purchase money is forthcoming.

By-law No. 314, disposing of Lot 14, Plan 1039, to Mr. John Kirschnedl at a price of $100, was reconsidered, finally passed and adopted.

By-law No. 315, for the sale of Lot 8, Block 2, Plan 1306, to Mr. James Paugh for $50, was given three readings.

The Assessor read a report on the results of the tax sale held on Sept. 1, according to which it appears that 63 parcels were exposed for sale, of which 10 were sold, the balance reverting to the City. The proceeds of the sale realized $751.00, while the 53 parcels which have become City property represent a total of $2,963.58 in delinquent taxes, subsequent to the 1920 interest, Land Registrar's fee, commission, etc. The sale was attended by only half a dozen people and bidding was not brisk, only one lot fetching an advance of about $26 over its upset price.

The Mayor informed the Council that for some time back the operating expenses of the Power House had been far too high, and the Light and Water Committee had arrived at a decision to take steps to reduce costs. To this end, he had asked Superintendent Blakeborough to inform the engineers that it was necessary to make a revision of the wage schedule, and to offer them two alternative proposals. First, that the force be reduced to two engineers at a salary of $175 per month each, who would work a ten-hour shift apiece, the remaining four hours to be worked by Mr. Blakeborough; or, second, that the services of the three engineers be retained at $150.00 per month each, on the basis of an eight-hour shift. The engineers rejected the first proposal on the ground of injury to health by such long hours, and while they were considering the second, Mr. Blakeborough suggested that they agree to grading as first, second and third engineer at respective salaries of $160, $130 and $140 per month, making an average of $150 per month. This arrangement had been accepted, and their pay was now on that basis as from Sept. 1st.

His Worship added that, since Mr. Blakeborough entered civic employment, meters had been installed at the Power House and it had been ascertained that there were serious line losses, to overcome which a large amount of reconstruction was necessary. For the superintendence of this work it was necessary that the Superintendent be relieved as much as possible of inside duties, hence four hours of Power House duty had been considered as the maximum he should undertake in the first proposal submitted to the engineers. He had informed the men that by their refusal to work ten hours

JACKIE COOGAN IS HERO OF "PECK'S BAD BOY"

Six-Year-Old Boy Is Most Famous Youngster in Film Land Today

Although he is but six years of age, Jackie Coogan is the most talked-about youngster in film land today. We have all heard how Charlie Chaplin found him and realized his screen possibilities, and how the famous comedian wasted no time in signing Jackie to portray the title role of the now celebrated film "The Kid." That was the first picture young Mr. Coogan appeared in. It is seldom indeed that a player ascends the ladder to stardom via a single photoplay, but Jackie Coogan is the exception. He not only won his spurs as a silent drama celebrity but has won a warm spot in the heart of every picture fan in the world.

And speaking of winning hearts—it would be hard to describe the feeling of friendship that exists between Jackie Coogan and Charles Chaplin. When Jackie severed business relations with Mr. Chaplin to assume the starring role of "Peck's Bad Boy," it made no difference in their friendship. Not a bit of it. Suffice it to say that Charles Chaplin and this little wonder boy of the silver sheet are pals—have been pals from the very start—will always be pals.

The producers of "Peck's Bad Boy," in which Jackie, of course, assumes the "bad boy" character, felt that at some time or another, everybody likes to think back on childhood days and remember the happy times spent in play—times when worries and worldly burdens were something unknown, "Peck's Bad Boy" will refresh memories on this score. Those recollections will be made vivid when Jackie's Associated First National feature is flashed on the silver sheet of the Empress Theatre.

Jackie Coogan comes by his histrionic abilities honestly. His mother and daddy are old-time theatrical artists. They have given their child every ounce of teaching they possess. Today Jackie Coogan is conceded to be the most brilliant child actor on the screen. And with it all, the world cannot spoil him, for Jackie is just plain, honest, straightforward American boy, all the way through. He does not act. He is simply natural and proves in "Peck's Bad Boy" that he has the power to create artistic and dramatic episodes as well as to provoke laughter. Therein lies the secret of his genuine artistry.

Don't fail to see "Peck's Bad Boy," with Jackie Coogan as the chief personage, at the Empress Theatre, either on Monday or Tuesday, Sept. 12 or 13.

LACK OF AMMUNITION HALTS GREEK ADVANCE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 8.—Greek forces engaged in an offensive against the Turkish Nationalists along the Sakaria River have been obliged to relax their assaults on the Turkish positions because of the tremendous expenditure of ammunition. Reports from the battle front have indicated that the struggle has been subsid.

ELLISON

School opened this week with a new teacher, Miss Kelman from Vancouver. We wish Miss Kelman every success in her new duties and that the children will continue to make good progress.

Miss Marjory Bulman left on Friday for Vancouver, where she is attending Normal.

The U.F.B.C. is holding its usual monthly meeting on the 7th inst. Unfortunately we had not notice of this meeting till too late for last week's notes. Mr. Copeland is to address the meeting, and we hope to hear from him a more definite reason for the existence of this organization, seeing that it is apparently not to be political.

There has been considerable comment in the district regarding the hauling up of local motorists for infractions of the City's by-laws. The average farmer goes to Kelowna because he has to secure supplies or deliver produce and we should imagine has no desire to break any of the rules and regulations of the City. On the other hand, a too stringent application of same, without giving the offender a preliminary warning, may result in ranchers getting whatever supplies they can through the mail houses. This matter is to be discussed at the U.F. meeting.

THE PRAIRIE FRUIT MARKETS BULLETIN

Current Prices and Market Conditions

(From the Weekly Bulletin issued by J. A. Grant, Fruit Markets Commissioner, Calgary.)

Sept. 3rd, 1921.

Weather has been favourable during the past week, a slight frost occurred this morning.

Crab apples have not sold very well this year. Price on Transcendent crab apples came down this week to $1.35 and $1.50. Wholesalers claim they are losing money at this price, but owing to the slow demand they decided to take the loss in order to get stocks going.

Blackberries are selling very slowly, the market slumped badly and on one or two days they were wholesaled at from $1.00 to $2.00 per crate, according to quality.

Egg plant is selling very slowly. Owing to low prices prevailing on ripe tomatoes, very little stock has arrived last few days; now that the market is cleaned up, higher prices are prevailing. A shipment of the following lines were received in Calgary, during the week from H. H. Thompson, of Peachland: Burbank "White Icicle" cucumbers, "Orange Sunrise" tomatoes, "Golden Jubilee" tomatoes, "Ruby and Gold" variegated tomatoes, Hybrid Lemon cucumbers, White egg plant, Pimentos, Sweet White tomatoes; they arrived in perfect condition and made a grand display in one of the shop windows.

D. Gellatly, of Gellatly, B.C., sent in a case of Green Filbert Nuts, they were fancy stock, the same as those grown in England. Butter prices are easier, although prices remain same. Eggs, Alberta, per case, $1.50 to $12.50. The hay market is dull but is expected to liven up after harvest is over.

Potato market off. Eastern buyers not interested at present.

from worms, but many were under-sized. Elbertas will be of good size and quality. Cover crops are making good growth.

Crop Estimate and Conditions as at September 1st, 1921

A revision of crop prospects is necessary at this time owing to certain factors which may have an influence on the Crop Report which was issued from this office some time ago. Some factors have arisen which will slightly influence the crop in some sections, but on the whole the crop may be said to be fully up to expectations as to size and quality with the possible exception of McIntosh Red. This variety, owing to certain adverse factors, is not sizing as it should. Possibly the lack of size can be traced in most cases to the lack of vigour in the orchards more than to any other one cause. Thinning has not been as generally practised as it should have been, and this has influenced the sizing.

In the Salmon Arm district the early estimate of 135,000 boxes of apples will be increased to 145,000 boxes; or approximately 207 cars. All other fruits will be about the same. In Armstrong and Enderby the apple crop will come up to early estimate of 19,000 boxes or 27 cars. In Vernon and Oya, in spite of the McIntosh not sizing, early estimate of 770,000 boxes or 1,100 cars will be sustained. Plums and prunes will be up to the estimate of 105,000 boxes. Okanagan Centre is expected to ship its quota of 172 cars of apples. In Kelowna and Westbank the early estimate of 900,000 boxes or 1,285 cars still holds good, although the early estimate of pears was too low; an increase of three cars being noted, making a total of 38 cars of pears, or approximately 30,000 boxes. Peachland will ship its estimate of 50 cars of apples, while Summerland and Naramata will fall slightly below their estimate, bringing the total which will possibly be shipped to 640 cars instead of 675 cars as previously estimated, or approximately 440,000 boxes. Penticton will be up to the estimate of 350 cars or 250,000 boxes. Keremeos will be up to early estimate of 75 cars or slightly over 52,000 boxes.

Taking the whole Valley, we find that very little difference has been reported in the conditions as from the estimate previously made, and the Okanagan Valley District will ship approximately 4,000 cars of apples this year.

It has been found that the early estimates of Duchess, Wealthy, and crab apples were too low in many cases, and if this is taken as a criterion of the varieties to follow, we will probably find that early estimates have in most cases been too low and that the sooner preparations are made to take care of the great percentage of increase over any crop previous, that much loss and grief will be avoided.

Varieties are colouring well, and it may be noted from the reports from the different districts that McIntosh picking will commence the first of next week and by the end of the week a considerable number of McIntosh will be moving. Therefore, every effort should be made to get over the Wealthy crop as quickly as possible in order that it can be handled and marketed successfully.

Kootenay and Arrow Lakes
Showery weather from the 17th to the 24th of August and the cool nights and bright sunshine following has been a great factor in bringing on the desired colour for the fall varieties of apples. The rainfall, however, was very light and the district is still suffering from lack of rain. Cover crops and vegetables need moisture very badly. Apples have not suffered to any great extent where cultivation has been practiced.

Duchess and other summer varieties of apples are about cleaned up. Cars of mixed fruit are moving from this section; mostly made up of plums, crabs and Duchess apples. Wealthy apples will be on the move in ten days time. On the whole, all varieties are sizing up well where they were sufficiently thinned. From reports and personal visits to different sections of the district, the apple crop will run a little better than the previous estimate.

Local grown tomatoes are on the market in large quantities, and the demand is quite brisk for canning. Potatoes are only moving in small quantities to the local markets; the crop will be light in most parts of this district.

Grand Forks

The bulk of the fruit in this district is of the later varieties, but to date there has been shipped through the Growers' Exchange ten cars of mixed fruit of the earlier varieties.

Wealthies will be in about a week's time. There will be a good crop but the fruit is colouring up slowly.

Prune picking will probably be in full swing by the 15th of September. Twenty-six cars of prunes is the estimated crop this year for this district.

Clapps Favourite and Bartlett pears are being picked this week. They are generally of fine colour and good size. Most of the pears grown in this valley are Flemish Beauties, and they are exceptionally fine this year.

Potato fields are looking much better than was expected this dry weather, but the crop can hardly be other-wise than short.

Grain threshing is a little more than half finished, and the yield is turning out very satisfactorily.

Creston

The long summer's drought of nearly seven weeks was broken early this week by a little over one-tenth of an inch of rain. The temperature at present is much cooler and will have a tendency to check the premature ripening of the fruit, and give it time to develop colour.

Orchards which have been well cultivated during the growing season are carrying a full crop of well sized apples, especially where the owners carefully thinned.

The first car load of mixed fruit left Erickson, Creston, about the 15th of the month. Duchess apples along with the summer varieties are now moving in the packing sheds and will all be cleaned up by about the 1st of September.

Maynard and Peach plums will soon be over, Burbanks are arriving in small quantities.

The first arrivals of Clapps Favourite pears are now being packed in the Union packing house at Creston. The Valley crop of apples this year is expected to equal the output of 1919. As the orchards are young, the trees are growing and are carrying a greater quantity of fruit, and are particularly free from Scab; also, owing to a warm and early spring, are well advanced in growth.

Ground crops have made poor returns owing to the severe drought and the drying winds. Tomato plants are small and the fruit developed a high percentage of Blossom End Rot. Potatoes have suffered severely in many places and the yield in general is expected to be light.

THE ANNUAL CLEAN-UP

(Experimental Farms Note)

As soon as the breeding season is over the fowl that are not intended to be retained for future breeders should be disposed of. The birds should be either put into a yard or confined to part of the yard, the rest being limed, ploughed or spaded, and seeded to green crop such as rape or rye.

All litter should be removed from the house and the ceiling, walls and floor thoroughly swept. Movable fixtures should be taken out and the whole interior given a thorough washing. The best way to do this is to use the hose if you have one; after the hose give the building a good flooding and scrub it down with a stiff brush. If there is no hose, be even more careful about the scrubbing. After the house has been thoroughly cleaned, give it a soaking with a good strong disinfectant. One of the coal tar preparations will be found satisfactory for this purpose, this should be applied with a spray pump so that it will be forced into all the cracks and crevices of the building. If there is no spray pump, use a brush, but be sure to get it into these cracks and crevices.

The house should be left standing for a couple of days to dry out, leaving it wide open to allow the sun and air to enter freely. It should then be given a good application of whitewash. The fixtures, nest boxes, roosts and dropping boards which have been removed should be treated in a similar manner.

At the time of this annual house cleaning it is a good plan to note what repairs to the houses, fixtures and fences are needed and have them made as soon as possible. Also clean up and burn any accumulation of rubbish, leaving nothing under which vermin may hide. A clean house free from lice and mites is easy to keep clean. Then see that the pullets are healthy and free from lice, when they are put in, and the problem of winter eggs is more than half solved.

GEO. ROBERTSON,
Poultry Husbandman.

As shown by municipal records, it is costing approximately $9.00 an acre to deliver water to the orchards of Summerland through the municipal irrigation system. At present the maximum irrigation rate that may be charged is $5.00 per acre, and the deficit has to be made up out of general taxation. The Municipal Council has accordingly decided to ask for power to increase the charge for water, the maximum rate to be fixed by the Water Board.

THE MARRIED LIFE OF HELEN

By
MABEL HERBERT URNER
Creator of the "Helen and Warren" Characters.

(Copyrighted 1921)

HELEN'S GENEROSITY PROVES COSTLY

"I didn't know you'd ordered ice cream, ma'am," Annie was removing the salad plates. "I'd made bread pudding—but guess it'll keep."
"Ice cream?" amazed Helen. "Why, I didn't order any."
"A big freezer full just now come."
"It's a mistake!" Dropping her napkin, Helen started for the kitchen. "It can't be for us."
"If there's any ice cream in sight—let's swipe it," Warren called after her.

There under the kitchen table stood the freezer—without a tag or address of any kind.

"Who brought it?" examining it for a possible caterer's mark.

"I dunno, ma'am. It came up on the dumbwaiter. Our bell rang and a man hollered up. 'There's your cream!'"

"Dear, come out here," Helen called into the dining-room. "There's no name on it. What'll we do with it?"

A careful scrutiny of the freezer and inquiries of the elevator boy and house man were without results. No one knew anything about the cream.

"Might as well eat it. No sense in letting it melt. Maybe somebody loosened up and sent us a present," grinned Warren.

"They'd send a card with it. You know it isn't for us."

But after Annie had enquired of Mrs. Gordon's maid across the hall upstairs, Helen reluctantly helped to open the freezer which held a gallon of rich cream, thick with walnuts and maroons.

"Jove, that's the real stuff!" was Warren's verdict when he forked in to the generous portion Annie placed before him.

"It's awfully expensive—with all those maroons. It must've been a special order. Oh, I wish we knew something about it!"

"Less we know the better," he chuckled, dispatching it with astonishing rapidity. "We're in luck—having this dropped on us a night like this. Punch that bell. I'm ready for some more."

But at his third plateful, Helen protested.

"Dear, it's so rich—you'll be sick. I wouldn't eat any more."

"Now that's all right! It isn't often I get a chance at a feed like this. When you order cream you're so blamed stingy you never get more than a pint."

"What you going to do with the rest of it, ma'am?" inquired Annie. "It's a shame to waste all that. Can I give a plate to the elevator boy?"

"Yes, do. And we'll send some to the Holdens. She's always sending us something. Wait, I'll come out and see how much there's left."

Though they had eaten all they could, there was at least three quarts still in the freezer.

"You can take this right up to the Holdens," Helen placed a thick slab on one of her best China plates. "And this is for Mrs. Martin," cutting out another square. "She brought us those tomatoes from the country. No, I won't put hers on a good plate—it might not come back. She's so careless."

When Annie returned glowing from her errand, saying they were both much pleased, Helen had ready two other portions on ordinary kitchen plates.

"Now this is for Joe, the house man—and this for the elevator boy. I wish you'd ask Joe to send up the first good big bandbox that's thrown out. I haven't one large enough for my new hat—the box it came in was all crushed."

In a few moments Annie reappeared with a large striped bandbox, smartly new.

"The very thing! Oh, what a nice big one," enthused Helen. "From Thorns too," noting the Fifth Avenue address impressively gilt-lettered on the cover.

"Yes'm, he said it just came down today. He says if you ever want any boxes—just let him know."

"Now you can take this to the superintendent," Helen was again at the ice cream. "And you can speak about that pantry faucet he promised to fix. Just ask if he can do it tomorrow."

Annie's return brought the superintendent's thanks and the assurance that he would be up the first thing in the morning to fix her faucet.

"Now let's see. Who else?" Helen tried to think of how the remaining cream, now less than a quart, could be distributed to her best advantage.

There was Ed, the doorman, who was always so nice about her packages—but he was not on duty at night. And Mrs. Clark on the third floor—she had sent them a jar of her home-made pickles, but she was away for a week.

"Who can that be?" anxiously, at a sharp ring at the door bell.

Annie, who had started to wash the dishes, wiped her hands, changed her apron, and hurried to the door.

Then voices in the hall—a woman's shrill excited treble. But Helen, listening with vague misgivings, could not catch the words.

"It's Mrs. Gregory from the eleventh floor—something about the cream," reported Annie in a perturbed whisper. "She says she's expected a freezer for her card party."

With sick dismay Helen ran out to the hall, then brank back in—noticed when she saw Warren already there.

"So it was delivered here! How could they have been so stupid? I'll send my maid right down for it."

"I'm sorry, Mrs. Gregory," interrupted Warren, plainly embarrassed. "But there was no address on the cream and we—"

"You didn't receive it—you sent it back!" excitedly. "Yes, of course you would. I'll phone the caterer—they'll send it right out again."

Her heart in her throat, Helen drew back in the shadow of the wall. What could Warren say?

"Mrs. Gregory, we couldn't return it—it was sent up on the dumbwaiter without any address. The man was gone before we knew anything about it."

"Oh, then it is here? I thought you said it wasn't. I'm so excited—I can't get anything straight."

Helen could stand it no longer. With one of her reckless, generous impulses, she darted forward to relieve Warren of the mortifying explanation.

"Mrs. Gregory, we—we didn't know what to do with the cream," her face painfully red. "The tag must've been torn off—we couldn't find out anything about it. It seemed a shame to let it melt—so we—"

"You didn't eat it?" shrilly. "Why, you couldn't! There was a gallon!"

"We gave most of it away. If we'd only known—"

"You deliberately ate that cream—when you knew it didn't belong to you? I never heard of such a thing!" her voice rising to a shriek.

"Now there's no use getting excited, Mrs. Gregory," Warren broke in coldly. "I'll be glad to pay for the cream."

"What good will that do—with twelve couples upstairs expecting refreshment?"

"Then I'll order more cream from any caterer you say—and have them—"

"All the decent ones are closed at this hour—I wouldn't serve the cheap stuff you get around here. I had that made specially with maroons and walnuts—eight dollars a gallon!"

"I'm very sorry," Warren extracted eight dollars from his wallet. "I don't see that I can do or say anything more."

"It's the most outrageous thing I ever heard!" furiously, crushing the bills in her hand. "I'll have to explain to all those people. I've nothing to give them but cake."

"I—we've some grape juice and ginger ale," offered Helen timidly. "If you'd like to make punch—"

"Thank you, I have the ingredients for a punch," frigidly. "This is a bridge club I entertain only once a year. And now not to have the proper refreshments—after ordering that cream a week ago! It would never have occurred to me to even open a freezer of cream that didn't belong to me! But I suppose it takes all kinds of people to make a world."

With this venomous thrust she swished out, slamming the door after her.

"Oh—Oh!" Helen dropped on a chair in the hall, her flaming face in her hands.

"She was pretty nasty," admitted Warren grimly. "Had her nerve to bawl us out—after taking the money."

"She'll tell everybody in the house!" wailed Helen.

"What if she does? I paid for the cream—what more could I do?"

"But she won't say you paid for it. She'll just say we ate her cream when we knew it didn't belong to us. They say she's the most awful talker."

"How in blazes were we to know where the blooming stuff came from? It landed in our kitchen. What were we to do with it? Pitch it out the window?"

"If only we'd waited—"

"Well, if you hadn't been so damned anxious to dish it out to pay off your debts and get in right with the house help—we'd have had most of it to give her. There's always a sting to your generosity."

"But, Warren, you made me open it," hotly. "I didn't want—"

"Oh, drop it! There's no use jawing about it now."

"And eight dollars!" For the moment Helen's outraged economy surmounted her mortification. "We could have had cream for a month on that!"

"Well, it was corking good cream—and for once I had enough. Now forget it! If she wants to spill that story all over the place—let her. I did all I could—and I don't want to hear any more about it."

With his ability to summarily dismiss an unpleasant subject, Warren lit his pipe and took up his paper.

But Helen brooded wretchedly over the humiliating incident. How Mrs. Gregory would distort it! Tomorrow everybody would know. The story of her lavish distribution of cream that did not belong to her would be all over the house.

Warren's thrust that she had dished it out to pay off her debts and "get in right with the house help" rankled deep.

Bitterly Helen realized that this time her favour-carrying generosity had been most unfortunate. She had paid a high price for the goodwill of the elevator boy, the house man, the superintendent—and a bandbox from Thorns!

Orchard Run

The annual severe pruning that the shade trees have to undergo on streets possessing electric light wires is suffered in silence by lovers of trees, because they know that it must be done to avoid loss of current and possible accident through the wires being frayed asunder by the rubbing of swaying branches, but in cases where there are no wires it would seem the trees should have first consideration, and when trimming is done it should be carried out with care and regard to the appearance of the victims. Such has not been the case with regard to some beautiful acacias at the south end of Water Street, between Eli Avenue and Mill Creek, which have been mauled in a disgraceful manner apparently with a blunt axe. Their crime seemingly was that they overhung the street and perhaps interfered with the headgear of pedestrians. There are no wires near them, and such trimming as was needed could have been done neatly, but instead the branches have been hacked and butchered and long, unsightly stubs left with the bark peeled off to invite decay. A few minutes extra time with a saw in place of an axe would have left the trees slightly instead of disfigured and would have given their wounds a chance to heal quickly.

It is significant of a change of opinion in a district which so frequently claimed superiority for its products over fruit grown under irrigation that a meeting has been called for Friday, Sept. 9th, in the Broadway School, Salmon Arm district, "for the purpose of discussing and, if possible, devising an irrigation system for this district." Such claims become empty vaunts in the face of such a dry summer as that of this year, and an apple grown under insufficient moisture conditions not only has the lack of flavour which anti-irrigationists used to contend was an outstanding defect of Okanagan fruit, but woodiness as well. We have in mind the experiment of an old friend who, after irrigating his orchard at Midway, on the Kettle River, for some ten years, decided he would grow his apples without artificial moisture. After tasting some splendid Gravensteins at Kelowna, we sampled some of his, grown without water. They were half the size of the Kelowna apples and, while quite sweet, were extraordinarily tough and woody, apparently being dwarfs possessing all the cell tissue of large apples without the juice to fill it out.

Irrigation has undoubtedly been overdone in the past, but the years have brought their lessons and there are few successful orchardists in the Okanagan who apply water to their trees haphazard these days. The judging of proper time and amount has been reduced to an exact science, and no more water is used than is necessary to equal the amount that would be added to the soil by a normal rainfall.

Last year we had a vote on the liquor plebiscite, a Dominion by-election and the provincial general election, and a weary succession of windy oratory and political fireworks. With considerably more than an ordinary share of political excitement within a very short span, it seemed reasonable to suppose that the electorate would be left in peace for a few years, but now another period of stress looms in sight and for the next three months various amiable gentlemen will seek to convince the enlightened freemen and freewomen of the Okanagan that each has the only panacea for the ills that afflict the times. What the outcome will be offers much room for speculation.

The signs of the times would seem to indicate that no party may have a majority in the House of Commons when the smoke of battle shall have cleared away, and Canada may be doomed to the evils of government by compromise between groups who may agree to sink their differences for the sweets of office and may rule the country by an invertebrate type of policy, calculated to give the least offence to supporters of various shades of opinion. The Farmers' Party looms as a force to be reckoned with but it cannot hope to gain any ground in the large cities and manufacturing districts, no matter what success it may achieve in the West and in certain regions of the older provinces, and it is hardly within probability that it could elect enough members to control the House without support from other groups. Unionism, a makeshift to carry the country through the troublous days of the war, is in a state of senile decay and seems ready to dissolve into its original components of Conservatism and Liberalism. Liberal Unionists may or may not, according to their records, be received back into the Liberal fold, but there will be few of them left as Unionists after the election. All indications point to three strong groups in Parliament—Farmers, Conservatives and Liberals, with a scattering of Independents—and the formation of a patchwork government such as exists today in Ontario and Manitoba.

Locally, the fruit tariff will no doubt be made an outstanding issue as during the by-election last year. An out-and-out advocate of free trade would have small chance of saving his deposit in the Okanagan, and candidates of all political factions will have to toe the same line on this question if they are to hope for any prospect of success. The C.N.R. will also bulk to a considerable extent; indeed the rumours already in circulation of a possible solution of the local railway situation may have a political bearing. It is certain that most of the electors who are not blinded by years of devotion to the old-line parties will demand something more clearcut than a policy of evasion and delay, which will handicap severely the sitting member, should he offer himself for re-election, even if he has fought a strenuous but fruitless fight so far on behalf of his constituency to secure early completion of the line.

A Mackenzie King Liberal would have about as much chance of election in the Okanagan as the lasting qualities of the proverbial snowball in the nether regions, and the contest will probably narrow itself, as last year, to a lively battle between Mr. MacKellie and a farmer or soldier-farmer candidate.

WINFIELD
(WOODS LAKE)

School opens for the Fall term on Tuesday. High school work is to be undertaken for the benefit of those who passed the entrance examination.

Mrs MacDonald organized the Winfield Union Junior Choir last Sunday. Miss Hilda Hoffman was elected Secretary and Miss Lola Chapman, Book Steward, for the month. Miss Phoebe Hoffman will act as organist and practices will be held every Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thompson, of Chase, B.C., stopped for a few minutes Sunday evening on their way from Kelowna to Vernon. They are spending a short holiday in the Okanagan, and naturally think it a good spot to live in. They were particularly impressed with the floral beauties of the park at Kelowna, contrasting with the bare aspect of Bernard Avenue.

Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., gave up a very interesting appointment to address the Women's Institute here on Thursday. He had been invited by the Premier to make the Cariboo trip with him along the route of the P.G.E. but turned this down rather than disappoint the members. His talk was on legislation of direct importance to and concerning the "gentler sex." Those present showed their interest in an unmistakable manner, also obtaining information relating to legal matter not usually known.

The statement made in these notes recently that "slashing of prices had begun on the prairie markets," was really culled from other notes printed in the "Courier," but was quite correct. However, by means of co-operation, the downward trend of the market was corrected.

Speeding by cars on the country roads these days, seems to be the vogue among a certain section of drivers. They tear through at alarming speed sometimes and accidents are certain to happen. "We're only doing 28," was the laughing remark made by one speed merchant to his companion the other day. Any child on the road is in real danger, while such driving is practiced.

BOY SCOUTS' COLUMN

Troop First! Self Last!
Edited by "Cougar."

6th September, 1921.
The combined Troop will meet on Friday, 9th September, at 7.15 p.m. in the Club-room. Uniforms are not compulsory, for the meeting is being called chiefly to reorganize the Troop.

A business session of the Court of Honour was held to-night. The chief matters for discussion were the appointment of new Patrol Leaders and arrangements for meetings. The new Patrol Leaders are E. Groves of the Eagles, and C. Cunningham of the Otters. This necessitated further changes; thus J. Aitken was appointed second of the Cougars and A. Geen of the Otters. Five Patrols have six members each and their Patrol Leaders will be on the look-out for suitable recruits. The Cougars are still at full strength.

The remainder of the session was occupied by the discussion of proposed Troop activities. The Court of Honour then adjourned and all feel confident about carrying on the Troop.

The Scouts were again able to do a "good turn" when Scout B. McCarthy went to Peachland to blow the "Last Post" at a military funeral.

The Westbank Scouts borrowed four of our tents for a hike and have returned them after a successful trip.

We take the following from the Headquarters Gazette:—
Doses for Scouts. (One to be taken each morning.)

1. He who does much always finds time for more. He who does little is too busy with his own leisure.
2. You can always judge a fellow by his smile. Sometimes it comes like a sunburst through a stormy sky.
3. Rags are a disgrace, well-worn clothes an honour, yet they are separated only by the length of a needle and thread.
4. The biggest watch-chain does not always decorate the "tummy" of the finest hero.
5. Today is separated from tomorrow by a gate through which, when once we have passed, we cannot return.

(To be continued next week.)

ONLY TEN LOTS SOLD
AT CITY TAX SALE

they would practically compel the City to connect with the hydro-electric system, and then they would be out of jobs. It would have to be decided at an early date whether an agreement would be entered into with the West Kootenay Power Co. The contract submitted by the West Kootenay Power Co. was not as favourable as expected, owing to a stipulation that for power purposes the rate will be 3 cents per k.w.h. for the first 30,000 k.w. hours, and 2½ cents per k.w.h. for all over that figure. Considering the large amount of power that would be required for pumping and sewerage purposes, he thought the rate too high and he had accordingly written the Company to the effect that, while no exception was taken to a rate of 3 cents for power and light to individual consumers, he considered the City should get a rate of 2 cents for pumping. No reply had yet been received to this letter, but there was hardly time.

The Council adjourned until Monday, Sept. 19th.
Mr. N. T. MacMillan, president of N. T. MacMillan Company, Ltd., real estate and financial brokers, Winnipeg, has been here for the past week in connection with arrangements for sale of the desirable property of the Stevens Orchards Lands, in the Westbank District. The irrigation system on this tract is approaching completion and should be finished within a month. A description of the undertaking is crowded out this week from lack of space but will appear in our next issue. Messrs. Weld, MacLaren & Co., Ltd., have been appointed local sales agents.

G.W.V.A. NOTES

We have had twenty books, all by well known authors, presented to the Club to form the nucleus of a library. Mr. F. G. Pharey is the member to whom we are indebted for this handsome gift. We shall be glad to receive further donations at once from members and, in case there are some who do not care to give the books, we will pay a deposit of 75c on all books lent for the winter to protect the owner against loss.

We had a long programme at the smoker on Saturday last, and are indebted to Messrs. McKenzie, Williams, Ferrier, Dart and Johnston, for contributions which were much appreciated. Ten new members have joined since the 1st August.

The Dominion Command are offering $500 in prizes for the best Ritual. Competitors must have their contributions in the hands of the Dominion Secretary-Treasurer, at Ottawa, by 15th inst. Particulars can be had from the Club.

The Women's Auxiliary will hold their meeting on Wednesday, 14th inst. All members are requested to be present, as the nomination of officers will take place.

The schools opened for the fall term on Tuesday. The total enrolment so far numbers 510 at the Public School and 100 at the High School, with several more to come. This is an increase of 40 over last year at the Public School and 20 at the High School.

Mr. H. A. Graham went to Vulcan, Alberta, on Monday.

Miss K. Fullerton returned on Saturday afternoon from a visit to her relatives in Nova Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wilson were passengers to Lacombe, Alberta, on Monday.

Mr. R. J. Stewart, Provincial Inspector of Factories, paid an official visit to town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. A. Anderson, formerly of Kelowna, have opened a dancing school in Vancouver.

Miss Lily Patterson went to the Coast on Tuesday for a couple of weeks vacation.

Miss Ila Johnston, of Brandon, Man., is spending a couple of weeks holiday visiting her friend, Mrs. C. W. Cope, of Glenn Avenue.

Mr. C. Foster, relieving agent, who had been taking the place of Mr. J. M. Davidson, C.P.R. agent, during his illness, left for Revelstoke on Friday.

Miss Sybil Mackenzie and Miss S. L. Taylor returned to school at Victoria on Tuesday, having spent the summer vacation here with their parents.

Mr. T. M. Anderson, District Field Inspector, left for Prince Rupert yesterday, having deferred his trip for a week from the date he intended to start, as stated in last week's issue.

Misses Edith and Hughena Urquhart, who had been paying a short visit to their brother, Mr. J. Urquhart, left for their home in Vancouver on Monday.

Misses May and Margaret Turnbull left on Saturday morning for a visit to Banff, and will likely extend their trip as far as Camrose, Alberta, before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ball and son Ralph left on Monday afternoon en route to Orange, California, where they expect to make a stay of about eight months for the benefit of Mrs. Ball's health.

Mr. E. R. Bailey, jr., Mr. H. Willits and Miss Abbie Wilson motored to Kamloops on Sunday to meet Mrs. Bailey and her young son, who were returning home after several weeks' visit to Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Wilson, of Chilliwack.

Although lowered in temperature considerably by the cooler weather which has prevailed for the past three weeks, the water of the lake is still pleasant for bathing, and the harder men, maidens and kids are enjoying a swim, quite a number being in evidence at the Aquatic on Labour Day.

Mr. J. A. Banfield, of Winnipeg, and Mr. E. M. Trowern, of Ottawa, President and Secretary respectively of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, are making a hurried tour of the Province, and will be entertained by the local business men to luncheon in the Lakeview Hotel at 1 o'clock on Friday, Sept. 9, on the occasion of their visit to Kelowna.

Construction has commenced on a new business building to be erected on the vacant lot between the Sutherland Block and the Blackwood Estate property, on Bernard Avenue. This gap has long been somewhat unsightly and it will add considerably to the appearance of the street to have it filled.

The Kelowna Fall Fair Prize List has now been printed, and intending exhibitors can obtain copies upon application to the secretary, Mr. H. G. M. Wilson. The Fair will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, October 5 and 6, and there will be big Stampede features on both days for which the best cow-punching and buck-jumping talent will be gathered from all parts of the Interior.

Mr. J. L. Vicary, a well-known fruit grower of Peachland, died in the Shaughnessy Hospital, Vancouver, on Friday last following an operation. Although over military age, being 52 at the time of his death, Mr. Vicary served overseas as a staff sergeant in the Canadian Army Medical Corps, enlisting in 1915. He is survived by his wife and one daughter. Interment took place at Peachland.

As advertised in this issue, the Penitence Exhibition will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 21 and 22. A liberal prize list has been drawn up, a total of $1,325 being offered in the fruit, dairy stock, poultry, women's and school sections, and there will also be a Baby Clinic and saddle horse and cow pony competitions. Prize lists may be had on application to the Secretary.

WESTBANK

Mr. and Mrs. George Hewlett arrived here from the Coast last week, and Mr. Hewlett is looking much better.

Mrs. W. Hewlett has returned from the Kelowna Hospital with her infant daughter.

Miss Marion Hannam is leaving on Wednesday for Penticton, where she will take up her schooling.

A number of strangers were here last week looking for a location.

Miss Balson arrived here Monday morning to take up the junior work in the school, and we hope the Principal will arrive soon.

Mr. L. Norris, Government Agent, Vernon, was here on Saturday and auctioned all the town lots to local men. To the joy of the Scouts and those interested, the Scout lot was secured for a reasonable price.

Mr. Reese, from the prairie, has bought the Duncan place.

Mr. and Mrs. Featherstonhaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and Mr. Keeler motored to Penticton on Sunday last.

The death occurred Sunday night about 11 o'clock, of Mrs. C. Butt, at the residence of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. Gellatly. The whole family have the sympathy of the Westbank community.

The motor car accident which took place at Powers Creek bridge on Tuesday, August 30, costing the lives of a man and a boy, was the worst that has been known to happen near Westbank. Most of the praise for quick help is due to the Westbankers, who rushed to the spot immediately.

Last Friday morning at 8 o'clock, the Scouts began to gather at Mr. Gore's house, with their things for the hike. After a long march they arrived in camp about half-past twelve, and fixed their tents and grounds.

On Saturday games were played, and the Scouts enjoyed them very much. Mr. James, the Scoutmaster, arrived in camp on Sunday, and was greatly pleased with the camp in general, best of all, the meals which were cooked by Mr. Gore. On Monday morning more games were played and also races were run. Directly after lunch things were packed and camp was broken, and to the sorrow of all the Scouts they had to leave the camp for the summer. A hearty vote of thanks is given to Mr. and Mrs. Gore, Mr. James, Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Drought, the Kelowna Scouts for their tents, and also Mrs. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Drought, and Mrs. Jones were visitors, and Mr. Gore was the cook, and a good one.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Ruffell and son Hubert left on Tuesday for a vacation trip to the Coast.

The "Trans-Canada" train is being taken off nearly a month earlier this year, and will make its last run from Vancouver on Saturday, September 18.

Mrs. J. T. Elliott and daughters Marion and Grace, who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Elliott during the past three weeks, returned to their home in Boissevain, Man., this morning.

The season for ducks opened on Saturday and a few fairly good bags were made, but sportsmen report the birds less numerous than in former years. The grouse season opens on Saturday, Sept. 17.

At a meeting of local real estate agents held last night in the Board of Trade building, at which about a dozen were present, it was decided to form a Real Estate Exchange, with the primary object of giving Kelowna and district a more prominent place on the map and of attracting settlers to the undeveloped lands, of which an area of some six thousand acres is still available with water supply provided. Officers were elected for the balance of the current year as follows: President, F. R. E. DeHart; Secretary, J. M. Paret; Executive, N. D. McTavish, J. Harvey and R. P. Foster.

The B.C. Fruit Markets' Commissioner at Calgary reports that a number of British apple dealers are now in British Columbia or will shortly visit the province. Mr. Sam Birch, of Poupard & Co., is now in the West looking after his firm's interests. Mr. H. Taylor, of Boston, Mass., who represents M. & H. Goodwin, Ltd., of Manchester, will visit the Okanagan this month, and Mr. Wm. Crossley, of Crossley & Son, Glasgow, is also due to visit B. C. fruit growing centres in a few days.

Any celebration of Labour Day was conspicuous by its absence so far as Kelowna was concerned. A number of Interior towns had good programmes of athletic sports, football, baseball and lacrosse matches, but "Okanagan inertia" seemed to have seized the young athletes of Kelowna and no effort was made to make a day of it, which would have been pleasing to the public in the kindly weather that prevailed and also financially remunerative to the athletic coffers that probably need the "dough."

Goodbye, Summer! Hello, Fall!

All through the store little messages of this sort are whisking into view through the medium of the new Fall Merchandise. EDIBLE AND POISONOUS FUNGI

(Experimental Farms Note.)

There is a widespread lack of knowledge among the general public concerning the edibility of so many of the common mushrooms growing, except in the very dry weather, in the fields, woods or in our gardens and lawns.

The common idea of fungi is that the one grown commercially, and which is also found in fields and pastures, is a mushroom, and all others are "toadstools" and therefore poisonous. The terms "toadstool" and "mushroom" are synonymous, and mushrooms are classified either as "edible" or as "poisonous." Fortunately among the hundreds of varieties of mushrooms there are not more than four or five poisonous varieties, but as some of the latter resemble somewhat an edible variety, there is danger in mistaking one for the other. All the so-called "tests" whereby one may ascertain whether a mushroom is edible or not, are absolutely worthless, and may be classed as old wives' fables. The only way to know the properties of fungi is by asking someone who is familiar with them, or by studying them one by one as one would take up the study of birds for instance. Unfortunately, popular works on fungi are not common, but several reliable works are available to the student who wishes to acquaint himself with the subject, as for instance: "One Thousand and American Fungi," McIlvaine; Bobb, Merrill Co. "Mushrooms, Edible and otherwise," Hard; Ohio Library Co. "Mushrooms," Atkinson; Henry Holt & Co. "The Agaricaceae of Michigan," C. H. Kaufmann; Wynkoop, Hallenbeck, Crawford, Co.

Practically no mushrooms are to be found during very dry weather, but two of the deadly varieties are likely to be met with after rains—the Fly Agaric (Amanita muscaria) and the Death Cup (Amanita phalloides). The first of these is a very conspicuous mushroom, not resembling any other variety in the whole range of mushrooms. The cap is large, from 4-6 inches, rounded at first, then nearly plane, surface when fresh slightly viscid. Its colour is subject to great variations, ranging from orange-red to yellow or almost white, the yellow colour being more common. The surface is covered with thick, angular persistent scales, usually white. These scales are often yellowish and easily removed; flesh white. The gills are free, but reaching the stem. Colour white, rarely becoming yellow. Stem, 4-8 inches long, shining white or pale yellowish, becoming hollow, enlarged at the base into a conspicuous bulb, marked by prominent, concentric, irregular rings. There is a ring or collar on the stem, very soft, large, white. The Fly Amanita is easily identified on account of its scaly cap, brilliantly coloured; large ring, and bulbous ringed base. It occurs along roadsides, wood margins and open woods, generally from June till frost.

The other deadly plant, Amanita phalloides or Death Cup, is 3-4 inches broad, commonly shining white or yellowish, but may be grey or brown, olive to umber. It is viscid when moist, smooth, oval, and finally extended; the margin is even, not marked, flesh white, not objectionable to taste, gills free from the stem, largest at the middle, white. The stem is 3-5 inches long, generally hollow, white. The base of the stem is inserted in a semi-free, white, cup-shaped covering called a volva. It is of common occurrence from July to October in woods, groves and along borders of woods. It resembles somewhat the common field mushroom, but a slight examination will disclose in the field mushroom the dark coloured gills and the absence of the cup at the base of the stem. A. phalloides is the most dangerous of all fungi, and is responsible for most of the deaths resulting from eating mushrooms. Ten to fifteen hours may elapse before symptoms of poisoning may appear. No antidote has been found by which the effects of the poison may be counteracted. A safe rule is to avoid eating all mushrooms having white gills, a ring on the stem and a volva at the base of stem, combined in the same plant.

HEARTH-GLOW AND HOMESPUN
By Polly Peck

(Copyrighted by British and Colonial Press, Ltd., 1921.)

"Fancy work is an invention of the evil one to keep the foolish from applying their minds to wisdom," some feminine sage remarked. While I should scarcely like to apply so sweeping a statement to all fine needlework—taking particular pleasure myself, in the joy of "sewing a fine seam" and loving the click of knitting needles under my fingers in the firelight—there is a kernel of truth in it. The girl who spends the weeks and months previous to her marriage embroidering elaborate monograms on every towel and table napkin is all too likely to overlook some more profitable ways of using her time and energy. One of these might be the familiarising of herself with those places where good old furniture may still be had and at a price which, even with the added expense of refitting, makes the product of the modern factory seem a wild extravagance. In buying the factory-made furniture one misses too, all the fun incidental to poking about in quaint little shops kept by quaint little men, who have quaint stories to tell about their wares. Of course you'll not find rare pieces of Chippendale and Sheraton hiding in every junk heap, but there are still beautiful old pieces of Jacks and Hay walnut at large, and what would be more suitable in a Canadian house than the rich brown tone of walnut.

When you follow the romantic trail of the tilt-topped table and the Windsor chair look out of the street car windows as you travel: push past the golden oak and veneered mahogany in the front window and you will find the romance at least. Sometimes it extends a little tentacle right out on to the sidewalk to clutch you and gather you in, as when, rattling along in a car on a most prosaic street, I spied a dear little swinging mirror in among a lot of grimy dishes, rusty ironware and enamelled beds once white, which formed the window and front door display of a tiny shop. What resplending and repolishing and a new environment did for that mirror in another story. But afterwards I watched that shop and frequently found other treasures, inside or out.

Another particularly happy hunting ground for the lover of those old solid things, made, like the much-advertised modern sweets "with loving care" such as factories and machinery know not, had no outside inducement whatever. It looked quite too respectable to be interesting, with its windows full of chiffoniers and refrigerators and such ornamented sideboards. Inside it offered little more until one asked, on a chance—

"Haven't you some older things—upstairs?" "Oh, yes, would you like to come up?" one was asked, and followed with alacrity while the shirt-sleeved guide led out onto the street, around the corner at another door, and faced a long and massive stairway with a heavy balustrade.

"Why, this looks interesting," one murmured; stopping on the stair and peering over at an iron grated door in the hall below. "Well, this was the old town hall round these parts," was the reply. "Those were the doors of the fire-hall, outside, and that barred door you're looking at led into the cells." "Upstairs, the one-time council chamber of the village which had been gathered in the city's growth, was filled with treasures of walnut and mahogany in all stages of disrepair. A walnut bed of the purest Jacks and Hay design, a quaint bureau with handles sunk in deep cups and an exquisite little card-table with a top which folded and turned on a swivel were among the "finds" recorded, and, in their enjoyment, there will always be the memory of the old town hall, and of the rather uncommunicative guide who, however, finally came to the point of commenting.

"Oh, well, there's no two things alike, of course, 'cause those men just worked that way. Factories can't turn them out like that. You see they just loved their work that's all. They worked to make the thing right and beautiful, not to get the money."

The public opening of the new consolidated school at Armstrong took place on Tuesday.

The pole line route between Penticton and Summerland, for the West Kootenay Power Co., is being staked out and construction will commence as soon as the line reaches Penticton from the south. A rate of 3 1/4 cents per k.w.h. has been agreed upon between the Company and Summerland Municipality.

COUNTER CHECK BOOKS

Instead of giving your order for Counter Check Books to a travelling salesman, give a local firm a chance to quote you an equally interesting price.

Counter Check Books constitute a special branch of printing work, requiring a large outlay in costly automatic presses and other expensive machinery in order to produce them with a minimum of hand labour and at the lowest possible cost in large quantities. The country printer, with his limited equipment, cannot compete in this field, and we have therefore accepted an agency for a firm of Counter Check Book manufacturers, who avoid the greater cost of employing a traveller by paying their agents a commission which in no way raises the cost of the books to purchasers.

The standard Counter Check Books are made up in a number of sizes and styles, either with carbon-back original or inserted carbon leaf, on any of which we shall be glad to quote prices. Or, if something else is needed to meet special requirements, we will obtain quotations from the manufacturers, whose prices are very reasonable.

arrived on the market during the past week, these would include Elbertas and Italian prunes.

Saskatoon

SASKATOON, Aug. 31.—Demand slow. Market overstocked in all lines. Weather warm and sultry.

Regina

REGINA, Aug. 31.—There was a slump in tomatoes last week selling at any old price, market cleaned somewhat and price now is $1.10. Trade good in country, city trade quiet, but will pick up again the first of the month. Wheat crop all cut and threshing commenced in most places. Weather extremely hot and hard on soft fruits. No use shipping poor crate apples to prairie market, as there is too much of the better goods being offered.

Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Aug. 31.—Business on this market is very sluggish, the market is full of fruit of all kinds, tomatoes are dynamite as there is a very large crop of very fine local tomatoes being harvested at the present time. B.C. apples are selling very slowly, particularly the crates and basket apples from Ontario, B.C. Crabs are arriving in many cases too small for number ones and as the market is full, of course, they are being refused, the Duchess also are getting over-ripe and mealy and Wealthys are being rushed out without good colour and backing up on the market as the earlier apples have done. Ontario grapes, earlier varieties, are on the market and very high in price, but of good quality so far.

Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Aug. 31.—General Market—Owing to the prevailing wet and cool weather, trading in fruits has been rather dull. Other produce lines, however, have had a fair movement.

Apples and Pears—The market is well supplied with both Washington and Okanagan being equally represented. Loose packs in both apples and pears are much in evidence and are moving out at a price according to quality. The presence of these cheaper packs on the market has a tendency to weaken the market for the standard packs.

Peaches and Plums—This market is also well supplied from both sides of the line. There is a steady demand which holds the price at a fairly constant level.

Tomatoes—The market is rather over supplied and in consequence the prices on the different qualities have widened in a downward direction. Field stock is selling as low as 75c per lug. It is difficult to see how the grower can make a profitable return at this price.

Onions—The Okanagan crop is now well represented and, while being a little on the green side, it still compares favourably with its predecessor from Walla Walla.

Other Vegetables—Are in good supply. The price level is much lower than in the last few years at this season, but it maintains a steady level, which is encouraging.

Potatoes—No outside shipments have taken place during the last week, the only demand being for small lots to meet the current demand on the local market. Potatoes have been bought for outside markets, but the grading was such that the shipper could not see his way to assume the risk of sending them forward and meeting the claims that would undoubtedly arise at the other end. Growers would be well advised to look to their grading, otherwise they are subject to the chance of country wide crop conditions for their outside market, and as the local market can not possibly absorb the normal yield, upon this demand depends the price they can obtain. B.C. can grow a good potato, why lose this advantage by thoughtless grading?

Eggs—The price went up 2c at the beginning of the week in sympathy with a firmer market across the line. No imports of consequence have been made from Washington for a month or more.

Poultry—Prices remain steady, with the exception that owing to the good supply of the heavier springs the premium on this class of bird has been almost eliminated.

NOTE: It is Reported in Calgary, Dumping Clause will be in Force Tomorrow.

Anti-Buy Bug

A new bug exists on Canadian produce markets. It is very pesty in the West. In the strawberry and raspberry season canners refused to buy at a very low price, today when none are available, they are paying almost double for the rejected pulp. The same re-action will take place if the jobbers refuse, as they are now doing, to buy winter apples, if shippers hold fast and do not force sales. Apples are at most only 68 per cent. of last year's crop, and the law of averages, which rarely fails, advises storage. We predict that shippers who sell now will be on the short end of the average season's price. The markets of Europe and Eastern States will furnish ample outlet for good winter apples.

Penticton Retail Merchants' Association is asking the Municipal Council to restrict transient trading by raising the deposit required from new traders as a guarantee that they will remain in business for at least six months, from $100 to $500, and by raising the licence fee for peddlers or other transient salesmen from $25 to $50.

F.O.B. Shipping Point Prices
There is no stability at present in prices quoted. In many cases quotations are made at one price and sales made at another. Washington shippers are undercutting every price that B.C. shippers make to meet Washington former cuts.

This morning B.C. quoted prices at 75c on prunes, Washington price of 70c immediately went to 50c. Washington Elberta peaches dropped to 75c when B.C. quoted $1.35.

We are taking this matter up with Ottawa and have asked that the dumping clause be enforced.

Dumping American Fruit

American salesmen operating in Calgary are undercutting every British Columbia fruit quotation. The situation in pears is that California overlapped Washington further than was expected with Bartletts, compelling Washington shippers to send their pears to cold storage. Shippers there found that other varieties would be on the market before the Bartletts were cleaned, and got "cold feet," they are flooding the Canadian markets with these pears. The profits made on the bulk of their crop will make their net loss light. This state is having a serious effect on the bulk of the B.C. crop, as they are compelled to meet the tail end cut of Washington stuff with their whole volume. Cars of C. Grade American Bartletts are reported as sold in Calgary at 90c per box and today's prices quoted are $1.00 to $1.50 f.o.b. Yakima. Prairie and B.C. markets are flooded with Washington stuff, with many cars consigned of peaches, prunes and pears. The prices realized do not commence to pay cost of production and this is purely dumping.

NOTE: It is Reported in Calgary, Dumping Clause will be in Force Tomorrow.

RUTLAND

The local Presbyterian church was crowded to capacity on Wednesday evening of last week, the occasion being a social gathering of the congregation and others, in honour of the Misses Beth Dalgleish and Bessie Duggan, prominent young workers in Presbyterian circles, who are leaving to take up a course of training as nurses at the General Hospital, Vancouver. The church was prettily decorated with flowers for the occasion. Rev. J. A. Dow occupied the chair. A short address, on behalf of the congregation, was read by Mrs. Leithhead, in which the good services of the young ladies were set forth and the good wishes of the congregation were extended to them in their new field of endeavour. Presentations were then made by Mrs. S. Fitzpatrick, of boxes of stationery and sets of ivory mirrors, brushes and combs, to both young ladies, as a small token of the congregation's esteem. Several short speeches followed from members of the audience. The evening's programme was concluded by the serving of refreshments by the Ladies' Guild.

Miss Beth Dalgleish and Miss Bessie Duggan left on Friday for Vancouver, to commence their training at the Vancouver General Hospital. The course will take some three years to complete, and they expect to return on a short holiday in about twelve months.

We hear that the proposition outlined in this column some weeks ago to re-arrange the Presbyterian and Methodist charges between Kelowna and Vernon has been rejected by every district affected except Rutland, where the co-operative committee anticipated the most opposition! The local Methodist board voted in favour, but with several reservations, some expressed in writing and others, we suspect, only mental. The Presbyterian congregation here, at a recent meeting, "passed the buck" to the Presbytery in a motion stating that nothing could be done until such time as the plan met with the approval of the said Presbytery.

We have been asked to express the appreciation of Mr. E. T. Money and family, of the kindness and assistance of friends in the illness of Mrs. Money, who is still confined to her bed, but is progressing favourably. The doctor, however, has ordered her to seek a lower altitude, and we understand that as soon as her health permits, Mrs. Money will move to the Coast, where the doctor is confident that her health will be entirely restored.

On Wednesday evening next the local Troop of Scouts will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gay. The occasion will be celebrated by the "sweating in" of a number of the tenderfoots. Anyone interested in the Scout movement will be welcome to attend and view the ceremony. Various stunts will also be performed by the boys to demonstrate the work of the Boy Scouts. At the conclusion of the investiture ceremony a meeting of parents and others interested will be held, to form a local association to look after the interests of the Rutland Troop, which has been formally registered at Victoria. The warrants of the Scoutmaster and Assistant have not been confirmed, owing to a difference of opinion with the authorities, who wish the Troop to come under the Kelowna Association. This difficulty will be overcome by the formation of a local association here. The investiture will commence at 7.15 p.m. sharp.

To the great delight of the school-boys the holidays are approaching their close, and on Tuesday next the school will re-open with an entirely new staff of teachers. The principal will be Mr. William T. Arthur, of New Westminster. The assistant Principal will be Mrs. A. H. Wesley, formerly of Staveley, Alta., who will teach the Senior Public School grades. Miss Mary I. Dean, of New Westminster, will teach the Intermediate grade, while the Juniors will be under Mrs. Mary C. Fisher, of Vancouver.

The Trustees of the Black Mountain Irrigation District made a tour of inspection to the dam on Monday last, and report that more progress has been made in the work of enlarging the reservoir than had been anticipated. The supply of water there at present is practically nil, but there should be an ample supply for everyone's needs next year. Irrigation will cease shortly on all parts of the system, except that which is watered by the old Rutland ditch, which will receive a certain amount of creek water for some time yet.

The Women's Institute will hold its regular meeting in the R.A.C. and Boy Scouts' Club room at the school on Thursday, September 8, at 8 p.m., when it is hoped to have the pleasure of an address by the Rev. E. D. Braden on the subject of "Good Citizenship." A cordial invitation is extended to men as well as women.

We regret to note the departure from the District of Mr. Elwood Flemming, who left on Monday for Summerberry, Sask. His departure will leave a gap in athletic circles, he having been a prominent member of the R.A.C. He played on the football, hockey and baseball teams, and was manager of the latter during the past season.

"COUNCIL OF EIGHT" WILL MEET TOMORROW

GENEVA, Sept. 1.—The "Council of Eight" of the League of Nations will meet tomorrow afternoon for discussion on the procedure to be followed in determining the Polish-German frontier of Upper Silesia. It is confidently expected here that the "Council of Eight" will narrow down to a "Council of Two," Arthur J. Balfour and the French delegate, Leon Bourgeois.

REPLY OF DAIL EIREANN REACHES LLOYD GEORGE

DUBLIN, Sept. 1.—The reply of the Dail Eireann to the latest British note was forwarded to Premier George last night, special Irish couriers carrying the missive directly to the British premier in Scotland. It is said that the reply has not ended negotiations unless the British Government insists in breaking them off, and further pour-parlers have been suggested.

OKANAGAN CENTRE

Mr. Lawley has sold his home to Mr. Donald, of Vancouver, for $10,000.

Mr. M. Gay has sold his property on the Vernon road for a high figure, we are told.

Mrs. S. Copeland and daughter have returned from a month's holiday at northern points.

Mrs. Devlin, of Nanaimo, and Miss Dennis, of Vancouver, who had been holidaying with Mrs. L. R. Seaman have left for their homes.

Mr. Webster, of Kelowna, who has been building a Swiss bungalow for Mr. W. W. Robinson, has finished the contract, and the family moved into their new home on Saturday. Mr. Robinson is continuing in the butcher business.

The ladies of the Centre gave a corn roast on the Centre beach on Monday evening, when about fifty gathered to do justice to the old-time feast. Mr. T. A. Gray did the roasting to a turn after the "away down in Dixie" style, and the results of his labours were much enjoyed. Mrs. Gray kindly lent her pretty lawn and home for a dance, to finish the evening's outing.

MAN AND BOY KILLED IN MOTOR CAR ACCIDENT

that there was no undue stress put upon the steering mechanism when crossing the bridge. The latter is a high structure built on a curve, and the road descends to it at both ends. The car had traversed only a short part of the length of the bridge when, without any time for Mr. Godley to do any more than attempt to check it by applying the brakes, it swerved to one side, broke through the hand railing and dropped into the ravine below, down the sloping side of which it plunged a distance variously estimated from fifty to seventy-five feet, finally lodging in some trees.

The two survivors were unable to say whether the car turned a somersault or how Mr. Dobson and Hugh MacLaren, who were sitting in the tonneau, came to be thrown from it. Mr. MacLaren, who sat in front, stood up in an endeavour to reach his boy as the car went over the bridge, after the smash he found himself huddled up in the front seat with his head through the wind-shield. The others had been thrown clear of the car, which seemed to have hit a large rock when it dropped off the bridge. The front end of the car took most of the impact and was badly smashed. Mr. Godley was dazed by the force with which he struck the ground, and he was brought to himself by Mr. MacLaren, who urged him to go for assistance while he looked after his boy, Mr. Dobson being apparently beyond help.

At the close of his evidence, Mr. MacLaren, who manfully held himself together, thanked the coroner and jury for their courtesy and consideration in making his examination as brief as possible in the trying circumstances.

The following verdict was returned by the jury:

"On August 30, 1921, about 4.40 o'clock p.m., at Powers Creek, on the west side of Okanagan Lake, between Westbank and Peachland, George L. Dobson came to his death by concussion and fractured skull, caused by the overturning of the motor car in which he was riding, the accident being caused by the breaking of a part of the steering-gear and through no fault whatever on the part of the driver."

A similar verdict was returned in regard to the death of Hugh MacLaren.

Mr. Dobson had been coming to Kelowna on his regular business visits for a number of years, and his tragic death is deeply regretted by many friends. He was between fifty and sixty years of age, and is survived by his wife and several children, resident in Vancouver.

The bodies were taken to Vancouver this morning for interment, and were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. MacLaren and Mr. Godley.

Hand Workmanship

You should be just as interested in the interior construction of the clothes you buy as in the outer materials.

Good fabrics and poor tailoring will never make a satisfactory garment.

The feature of our Made-to-Measure Clothes is their lavish hand tailoring.

They are constructed by Master Craftsmen.

You cannot appreciate what Hand-Workmanship means to a garment until you have given our Clothing a trial.
